

SAGITTARIUS The lunar eclipse which takes place on December 10th highlights the important relationships in your life and the dependencies that people have on you. Your life is going along smoothly enough, but there are a lot of distractions and irritations now because of a variety of situations partners and friends may have got themselves into. At work some people tend to dump their problems on your table, but generally your relationship with your professional peers is excellent though your bosses may be overly dependent on you and expect you to get them out of the trouble they have got themselves into through promising too much. By Christmas your skills and patience will be rewarded and you can expect a considerable financial boost. Christmas is in fact something of a turning point for you. Looking back over recent months you will find that your situation at work has been transformed, and that you have really consolidated your position. You can relax over Christmas knowing that good times lie ahead. There is no need to do anything at all.

CAPRICORN December is a month of creativity and personal satisfaction for you, both professionally and in your love life. You are determined not to compromise on the important values in your life, and you have no fear of putting things on the line to get things the way you want them. There is an intense passion which has positive results and means that other people will respect your values and even adopt them. This is also an intense period for partners, who may be very busy and even stressed out at work. Significant developments at the solar eclipse on the 10th may see a partner or colleague embattled and even involved in a war of principles or words.

Perhaps the solution is not to take on too much and not to promise too much. What works now is attention to practical details. Christmas is your time, and people gather around you, happy to do things the way you want them done. It is a wonderful time for fun and games, for playing with children, and for passionate exchange. There is a sense of fulfillment and happiness as loved ones put their troubles behind them. People talk about making a major transformation in their lives, and you are all for that.

AQUARIUS Your social life continues to be the focal point around which your life revolves, but things do tend to get rather intense in the first half of December. There are so many distractions and finding a balance between the needs of the groups and your own personal needs can be quite a challenge. Stresses mount because of the sheer detail demanded in your professional life. The trick is to stay calm and balanced, with a clear overview of the situation - your position is so strong, you cannot fail. By the 21st the focus on all work and no play dramatically shifts and suddenly you feel lighter and happier. Christmas is upon you! Friends from afar clamor for your attention and at last here is a sense of freedom and excitement. This is a traveling Christmas, but the pleasures of the home still keep you grounded and satisfied. Partners and loved ones are boosted by a mood of optimism over the Christmas period, not least because of professional successes and economic expansion, which will be reflected by improvement in the home. But there is a sense of unease about the unpredictability of it all which can be difficult to get to grips with.

PISCES These days there is a strong focus on your professional life and partnerships, and you are a silent witness to people in this area constantly changing course and getting themselves into bother through overoptimistic projections and expectations. Whilst others create unnecessary worries for themselves, you are a rock on which they can lean. The month of December is in fact a turning point for you. It may seem that there is a certain inertia and that you are not getting anywhere, but you have industriously prepared the ground and are in fact on course for great successes next year not least in March, which promises to be a month when your hopes and dreams come true. A great time for communication, education, love and partnership, and your social life generally. Christmas is a time to reach out to friends and groups, where there is a lot of fun and cultural excitement to be had. There are so many changes taking place on the social front this Christmas that it can be difficult to keep up.
